Output:	18 individual clips + 1 stitched trailer

SCENE 1: THE BOY AND THE TREE

Duration: 0:00 - 0:12 (12s)

VISUAL:

Golden afternoon light. A young boy (5-7 years old, messy hair, simple clothes) runs around a massive ancient oak tree in a meadow. He holds a small carved wooden dragon toy. A still puddle sits at the base of the tree, reflecting the sky and branches above. The scene feels warm, nostalgic, dreamlike.

GROK IMAGINE PROMPT:

Cinematic wide shot, golden hour lighting, young boy age 6 running around a massive ancient oak tree in a green meadow, holding a small wooden dragon toy, a still reflective puddle at the base of the tree, warm nostalgic atmosphere, film grain, shallow depth of field, Terrence Malick cinematography style, 16:9 aspect ratio

ACTION/CAMERA:

Boy runs in circles around the tree, swooping the dragon toy through the air. Camera slowly pushes in from wide to medium shot. He slows as his eye catches the puddle.

AUDIO/MUSIC:

Gentle piano + ambient meadow sounds (birds, wind). No dialogue yet.

MOOD: Wonder, innocence, solitude

SCENE 2: THE REFLECTION DISCOVERED

Duration: 0:12 - 0:22 (10s)

VISUAL:

The boy crouches at the puddle's edge. Camera shows his face looking down, then cuts to an overhead shot of the puddle showing the tree reflected perfectly — but something moves in the reflection that shouldn't be there. A serpentine form coils along a branch in the reflected tree. The boy looks up quickly — nothing there. Looks down — the serpent is there. Looks up again — nothing. Looks down — the serpent remains.

GROK IMAGINE PROMPT:

Overhead cinematic shot of a small boy crouching beside a still puddle at the base of an ancient oak tree, the puddle reflects the tree branches above but within the reflection a dark serpentine shadow coils along a branch, ethereal and unsettling, golden afternoon light, shallow depth of field, mystery atmosphere, 16:9

ACTION/CAMERA:

Three rapid cuts: puddle (serpent visible) → boy looking up (nothing) → puddle (serpent visible) → boy looking up (nothing) → puddle (serpent visible and still). Each cut builds tension.

AUDIO/MUSIC:

Piano drops out. Low cello drone enters. Subtle heartbeat sound.

MOOD: Curiosity tinged with unease

SCENE 3: FIRST CONTACT

Duration: 0:22 - 0:40 (18s)

VISUAL:

Close-up of the puddle. The serpent's form becomes clearer in the reflection — dark scales, ancient eyes, coiled around the reflected branch. The boy's face is reflected beside it. The serpent's mouth moves as it speaks.

GROK IMAGINE PROMPT:

Close-up shot of a still puddle at the base of an ancient oak tree, within the water reflection a dark elegant serpent with ancient knowing eyes coils around a reflected tree branch, beside the serpent reflection is the face of a young boy age 6 looking down with wide curious eyes, mystical golden-green lighting, cinematic, 16:9

ACTION/CAMERA:

Static close-up on puddle. Subtle ripples when the serpent speaks. Boy's expressions shift from fear to curiosity.

AUDIO/MUSIC:

Low ambient drone. Serpent's voice: deep, warm, ancient — not threatening but unsettling.

DIALOGUE:

SERPENT: "Hello, little boy."
BOY: "How did you get in the puddle?"
SERPENT: "I have always been here with you."
BOY: "No you haven't — I looked up and you were not there. I did that twice. Are you really here, serpent?"
SERPENT: "I have always been here with you, little boy."

MOOD: Intimate, mysterious, sacred

SCENE 4: BELOW YOU

Duration: 0:40 - 0:55 (15s)

VISUAL:

Medium shot of the boy kneeling at the puddle, holding his dragon toy to his chest. The serpent's reflection grows slightly larger, more defined. The camera occasionally shows the boy from the serpent's POV — looking UP through the water at the boy's silhouette against the sky.

GROK IMAGINE PROMPT:

Underwater perspective looking up through still water at the silhouette of a young boy age 6 kneeling above, his face visible through the water surface, golden sky behind him, dark serpentine shadow in the foreground underwater looking up, cinematic mystical lighting, 16:9

ACTION/CAMERA:

Alternating shots: boy looking down into puddle / serpent's POV looking up at boy. The perspective shift is disorienting.

AUDIO/MUSIC:

Muffled underwater sounds when in serpent POV. Clear meadow sounds when in boy's POV.

DIALOGUE:

BOY: "If you have always been here then why can I not see you in the tree above me?"
SERPENT: "That's because I am not above you, little boy. I am below you."
BOY: "Below me? What do you mean below me?"
SERPENT: "I have been with you, and below you, little boy. Do you want to play?"

MOOD: Growing intimacy, subtle menace

SCENE 5: THE DRAGON BARGAIN

Duration: 0:55 - 1:12 (17s)

VISUAL:

The boy's face lights up with excitement. He holds his dragon toy forward toward the puddle. In the reflection, the serpent seems to smile — its form shifts, suggesting something larger, more powerful. The reflected serpent's eyes glow faintly amber.

GROK IMAGINE PROMPT:

Close-up of a young boy age 6 holding a wooden dragon toy forward toward a puddle reflection, his face lit with excitement and wonder, in the puddle reflection a dark serpent with glowing amber eyes appears to smile, ancient oak tree behind, golden light, cinematic intimate shot, 16:9

ACTION/CAMERA:

Boy leans closer to the puddle with each line. His excitement builds. The serpent's form subtly grows in the reflection.

AUDIO/MUSIC:

Music builds subtly. Warmth enters the score — false comfort.

DIALOGUE:

BOY: "I do not have anyone to play with."
SERPENT: "I like that dragon you are playing with. Did you know I was once a dragon too?"
BOY: "Really? You were a dragon like mine!"
SERPENT: "Let's play dragons together — would that not be fun!"
BOY: "That would be great! But you are in a puddle, serpent. How are you going to play dragons with me?"
SERPENT: "All you have to do is ask me."
BOY: "Will you be my dragon, serpent?"
SERPENT: "As you command, little boy. I will be your dragon for you."

MOOD: Excitement masking the bargain

SCENE 6: DRAGON PLAY

Duration: 1:12 - 1:20 (8s)

VISUAL:

The boy leaps up and runs wildly through the meadow, swooping his dragon toy, roaring. Camera follows in a tracking shot. His shadow on the grass seems slightly too large, too winged, too scaled — but only for frames at a time. Subliminal.

GROK IMAGINE PROMPT:

Cinematic tracking shot of a young boy running through a golden meadow swooping a dragon toy through the air, his shadow on the grass is subtly larger and more dragon-like with wings, golden hour lighting, joyful but with undercurrent of darkness, motion blur, film grain, 16:9

ACTION/CAMERA:

Fast tracking shot. Boy running, leaping, roaring. Quick subliminal cuts of his shadow morphing into dragon form.

AUDIO/MUSIC:

Joyful but with minor-key undertone. Boy shouting:

DIALOGUE:

BOY: "I am a dragon! ROARRR! I am a mean dragon that breathes fire! RARRRGH!"

MOOD: Joy with subliminal darkness

SCENE 7: THE ABANDONMENT

Duration: 1:20 - 1:30 (10s)

VISUAL:

The boy returns to the puddle, panting, excited. He looks down — the serpent is gone. The puddle shows only sky, tree, and his own face. His expression shifts from excitement to confusion to anger. He crouches for a big jump.

GROK IMAGINE PROMPT:

Medium shot of a young boy age 6 crouching at the edge of a puddle looking down with anger and hurt on his face, the puddle shows only a normal reflection of sky and oak tree, no serpent, the boy's fists are clenched, golden hour light turning to dusk, emotional cinematic shot, 16:9

ACTION/CAMERA:

Boy looks into puddle — no serpent. Calls out. Silence. His face crumbles from joy to hurt to rage. He crouches, preparing to jump.

AUDIO/MUSIC:

Music stops abruptly. Silence. Then the boy's voice, cracking:

DIALOGUE:

BOY: "Serpent! You said you were going to be my dragon! Where are you? Come out and be my dragon!"

(silence)

BOY: "Fine! You are like everyone else. Never there for me!"

MOOD: Abandonment rage — the trigger

SCENE 8: THE PULL — THE THRESHOLD MOMENT

Duration: 1:30 - 1:36 (6s)

VISUAL:

SMASH CUT. The boy leaps into the air. Time slows. At the peak of his jump — a massive scaled DRAGON CLAW erupts from the puddle, grabs his legs, and PULLS HIM DOWN into the water. The puddle becomes a vortex. The boy's scream is cut short by the water.

GROK IMAGINE PROMPT:

Dramatic cinematic shot of a massive red dragon claw erupting from a small puddle grabbing the legs of a young boy in mid-air, water exploding upward, the boy's face frozen in terror, the ancient oak tree behind, time-freeze motion capture style, dramatic lighting with dark red and gold, 16:9

ACTION/CAMERA:

SLOW MOTION. Boy at peak of jump → claw erupts → grabs legs → PULLS DOWN. Water explodes upward. Everything goes dark.

AUDIO/MUSIC:

MASSIVE bass hit. Water crash. Boy's scream — cut short. Then silence.

MOOD: SHOCK — the inciting incident

SCENE 9: FLIGHT THROUGH THERA-WORLD

Duration: 1:36 - 1:52 (16s)

VISUAL:

The boy is dragged through the sky of the Thera-World by the massive red dragon, held by his legs. Below them, the entire Thera-World unfolds: Dark Forest with twisted trees and glowing fog, Fortress Plains with vast stone walls, River Valley with luminous waters, Sacred Groves with ancient temples, Crystal Caves glowing from within. Archetypes are visible below — the Seraph, the Phantom, the Oracle, the Warrior, the Sage — all looking up at the dragon and the screaming boy.

GROK IMAGINE PROMPT:

Epic cinematic aerial shot of a massive red dragon flying through a fantasy world carrying a small boy in its talons, below is a vast landscape showing dark twisted forest, fortress plains with stone walls, luminous river valley, glowing crystal caves, ancient temples, tiny figures of various archetypes looking up from below, dramatic storm clouds and golden light breaking through, scale of Lord of the Rings, 16:9

ACTION/CAMERA:

Fast aerial shots sweeping over each biome. Quick cuts showing different archetypes below. The boy screams and flails. The dragon breathes fire downward, scorching the forest canopy.

AUDIO/MUSIC:

Full orchestral explosion. Choir. Drums. Wind. Boy screaming. Dragon roars echoing across the landscape.

MOOD: Terrifying wonder — the scope of the Thera-World revealed

SCENE 10: THE TOWER AND THE WATCHERS

Duration: 1:52 - 1:58 (6s)

VISUAL:

The dragon swoops past a massive stone tower that overhangs a dark ocean. Atop the tower stand two women: one is a Watcher — tall, armored, vigilant, pointing at the dragon. Beside her is another woman glowing with bright ethereal light — radiant, calm, watching with compassion rather than alarm. At the tower's base, a Knight in brilliant silver armor raises his sword and shouts at the dragon. The dragon SCREECHES at the women on top but completely ignores the knight.

GROK IMAGINE PROMPT:

Cinematic dramatic shot of a massive red dragon flying past a tall stone tower over a dark ocean, on top of the tower two women stand - one armored watcher pointing at the dragon and one glowing ethereal woman with radiant golden light watching calmly, at the base a knight in silver armor raises a sword defiantly, the dragon screeches with open jaws, dramatic scale, storm clouds, 16:9

ACTION/CAMERA:

Dragon sweeps past the tower. Close-up of the watcher pointing. Close-up of the glowing woman — serene. Close-up of the knight yelling. Dragon ignores the knight completely.

AUDIO/MUSIC:

Dragon screech (reverberating). Knight's distant shout. The glowing woman's presence creates a moment of stillness in the chaos.

MOOD: Power dynamics — who the dragon fears

SCENE 11: THE SACRED WELL

Duration: 1:58 - 2:06 (8s)

VISUAL:

The dragon descends rapidly to a sacred clearing where a spiraling stone well sits in the center. Ancient runes cover its walls. A soft light pulses from within the water. The dragon drops the boy beside the well and lands with a ground-shaking impact. The boy — still clutching his dragon toy — scrambles to his feet. The dragon towers 50 feet above him. The size difference is emphasized: the boy is less than 4 feet tall, the dragon's head is the size of a house.

GROK IMAGINE PROMPT:

Cinematic low-angle shot of a massive 50-foot red dragon towering over a tiny boy age 6 who stands beside an ancient spiraling stone well with glowing runes, the boy clutches a small wooden dragon toy, scale emphasized dramatically, the dragon's eyes glow with ancient intelligence, mystical clearing with bioluminescent plants, dramatic lighting, 16:9

ACTION/CAMERA:

Dragon drops boy. Camera emphasizes the massive scale difference. Slow push-in on the boy looking up, terrified.

AUDIO/MUSIC:

Ground impact. Silence. The boy's ragged breathing. Wind through ancient stones.

MOOD: Awe, terror, sacred ground

SCENE 12: THE WELL'S REFLECTION

Duration: 2:06 - 2:20 (14s)

VISUAL:

The boy, too afraid to look at the dragon directly, looks down into the well's water. In the reflection he sees both the dragon towering above AND his own small face. The same dynamic as the puddle — but now the serpent has become the dragon. The dragon speaks in the serpent's deep voice. The boy speaks to the reflection, unable to face the dragon directly.

GROK IMAGINE PROMPT:

Overhead cinematic shot looking down into an ancient stone well filled with dark reflective water, in the water reflection a massive red dragon towers above and a small frightened boy's face looks down, both visible in the reflection together, mystical rune-covered stone walls of the well, soft inner glow from the water, intimate and terrifying, 16:9

ACTION/CAMERA:

Static overhead shot of the well's water. Both faces reflected. The dragon speaks — its reflected mouth moves. The boy trembles but holds his ground.

AUDIO/MUSIC:

Reverberant well acoustics. Dragon's voice echoes with the serpent's original tone.

DIALOGUE:

DRAGON (serpent's voice): "Hello, little boy."
BOY (to the reflection): "I am scared..."
DRAGON: "Do you want me to protect you, little boy?"
BOY: "You are not going to hurt me?"
DRAGON: "Not if you want me to protect you."
BOY: "How are you going to protect me?"
DRAGON: "By placing you inside me. But you also have to place me inside you. Don't you want to be protected?"

MOOD: The false covenant — protection as possession

SCENE 13: THE DRAGON'S MOUTH

Duration: 2:20 - 2:27 (7s)

VISUAL:

The boy says "Yes" while looking at the reflection. In the water's surface, he watches the dragon's mouth slowly open above him. He looks up — the dragon's head IS descending, jaws opening, coming down upon him like it's going to swallow him whole. TERROR. The boy screams and JUMPS into the well's water to escape.

GROK IMAGINE PROMPT:

Dramatic cinematic shot from below looking up at a massive red dragon with jaws wide open descending upon a tiny terrified boy who is falling backwards into a stone well, the dragon's mouth fills the frame, teeth and fire visible, the boy's face frozen in terror, extreme dramatic angle, dark with fire light, 16:9

ACTION/CAMERA:

Three rapid shots: reflection showing mouth opening → boy looks UP → dragon head descending → boy screams and throws himself backward into the well.

AUDIO/MUSIC:

MASSIVE crescendo. Boy screams. Water splash. Then muffled silence.

DIALOGUE:

BOY: "Yes, I want to be protected..."

(sees dragon mouth descending)

BOY: (SCREAMS)

MOOD: Absolute terror — the escape

SCENE 14: UNDERWATER ESCAPE

Duration: 2:27 - 2:35 (8s)

VISUAL:

Underwater. The boy plunges into the deep well. Above him, dragon fire crashes against the water's surface — orange and red light dancing through the water. Below him, a bright white light grows. A vortex forms, pulling him downward. He swims toward it, drawn by instinct. The light becomes a portal.

GROK IMAGINE PROMPT:

Cinematic underwater shot of a small boy swimming downward through dark well water, above him dragon fire crashes against the water surface creating orange rippling light, below him a bright white vortex of light pulls him downward, air bubbles trail from the boy, mystical and terrifying, deep blue and orange contrast, 16:9

ACTION/CAMERA:

Boy sinks/swims. Fire above. Light below. The vortex grabs him and pulls him through.

AUDIO/MUSIC:

Muffled underwater. Dragon fire rumbling above. Rising ethereal tone as the light approaches. WHOOSH as vortex takes him.

MOOD: Descent into the unknown — rebirth passage

SCENE 15: THE RETURN

Duration: 2:35 - 2:43 (8s)

VISUAL:

The boy is SHOT out of the water and lands on his feet — in the puddle, by the tree, in the meadow. As if he just jumped into it. He's soaking wet, shaking, clutching his dragon toy. The meadow looks exactly the same. The tree. The sky. Everything. As if the Thera-World never happened. Almost.

GROK IMAGINE PROMPT:

Cinematic medium shot of a soaking wet young boy age 6 standing in a shallow puddle beneath an ancient oak tree in a golden meadow, his face shows shock and confusion, he clutches a wooden dragon toy to his chest, water drips from him, the scene is peaceful but the boy looks like he just survived something terrifying, golden hour light, 16:9

ACTION/CAMERA:

Boy emerges. Stands in puddle. Looks around frantically. Everything is normal. He's confused, wet, shaking.

AUDIO/MUSIC:

Silence. Then meadow sounds return — birds, wind. Gentle. Like nothing happened.

MOOD: Disorientation — was it real?

SCENE 16: THE GIRL

Duration: 2:43 - 2:52 (9s)

VISUAL:

A little girl appears — same age, bright eyes, laughing. She approaches the wet boy with curiosity and delight. She is light where he is dark. She is dry where he is soaked. She represents unconditional love encountering conditional love for the first time. As the puddle calms beneath the boy's feet, the serpent reappears in the reflection.

GROK IMAGINE PROMPT:

Cinematic two-shot of a laughing little girl age 6 approaching a soaking wet confused boy age 6 standing in a puddle under an ancient oak tree, the girl is bright and dry and smiling, the boy is dark and wet and stunned, golden meadow behind them, warm intimate lighting, the puddle between them begins to calm and smooth, 16:9

ACTION/CAMERA:

Girl enters frame. Boy stares. She laughs. He can't respond. The puddle smooths. The serpent reappears in the reflection below.

AUDIO/MUSIC:

Girl's laugh — bright, pure. Music returns: gentle, hopeful but uncertain.

DIALOGUE:

GIRL: "Little boy, why are you so wet!"
(silence — boy stares)
GIRL: "Did you hear me? Are you so silly that you got that wet jumping into the puddle? You are funny!"

MOOD: Light meeting dark — the first offer of connection

SCENE 17: THE DRAGON INSIDE

Duration: 2:52 - 3:00 (8s)

VISUAL:

The boy looks down into the calming puddle and sees the serpent again. Close-up of the serpent's eyes in the reflection. Close-up of the boy's eyes — which FLASH with dragon fire for a split second. Amber slits. Then human again. The boy smiles — a knowing, slightly dangerous smile. He is not afraid anymore. He has become something.

GROK IMAGINE PROMPT:

Extreme close-up of a young boy's eyes age 6, one eye reflects normal blue, the other flashes with amber dragon slit pupil for a split second, a knowing dangerous smile plays on his lips, he is soaking wet with mud on his face, golden light on one side dark shadow on the other, cinematic portrait, 16:9

ACTION/CAMERA:

Slow push-in on boy's face. Eyes flash dragon. Smile forms. He straightens up. He is different now.

AUDIO/MUSIC:

Low dragon rumble — almost subsonic. The serpent's voice, now inside the boy:

DIALOGUE:

SERPENT (from the puddle): "I am in you, as you are in me, little boy."
BOY (eyes flash, smirking): "I am a dragon coming to get you, princess warrior! RARRRGH!"

MOOD: Transformation — innocence merged with something ancient

SCENE 18: THE CHASE, THE SERPENT, THE END

Duration: 3:00 - 3:10 (10s)

VISUAL:

The boy runs after the girl, covered in mud, dragon toy in hand. She screams with delight and runs toward the forest. They are children playing — but we know what lives inside the boy now. Camera pulls back to the puddle. The children's laughter fades. The serpent appears in the reflection. It looks directly at the camera. Its eyes glow. It opens its mouth — and BREATHES FIRE through the water, filling the screen with flame.

GROK IMAGINE PROMPT:

Cinematic shot looking down into a still puddle under an ancient oak tree, in the reflection a dark serpent with glowing amber eyes stares directly at the viewer, its mouth begins to open revealing flame within, the surface of the water ripples with heat, in the background of the reflection two children run toward a forest, haunting and beautiful, 16:9

ACTION/CAMERA:

Wide shot: kids running away. Camera descends to puddle. Serpent appears. Looks at camera (breaking fourth wall). Opens mouth. FIRE. Cut to black.

AUDIO/MUSIC:

Children's laughter fading. Then dragon fire ROAR. Cut to silence. Then a single piano note.

DIALOGUE:

GIRL (running, distant): "You will never catch me, dragon! I am protected in the forest!"
(laughter fading)
(fire blast)
(silence)

MOOD: Haunting beauty — the story is inside all of us

SCENE 19: END CARD

Duration: 3:10 - 3:15 (5s)

VISUAL:

Black screen. Text fades in: golden letters on black. THERA-WORLD A Journey of Two Worlds of Healing by Sovereign Sanctuary Come adventure with Little Nate.

GROK IMAGE PROMPT:

Elegant title card on pure black background, golden text reading 'THERA-WORLD' in large serif font with subtitle 'A Journey of Two Worlds of Healing' and 'by Sovereign Sanctuary' below, small text 'Come adventure with Little Nate' at bottom, minimalist cinematic, gold on black, 16:9

ACTION/CAMERA:

Fade from black. Text appears word by word. Hold. Fade to black.

AUDIO/MUSIC:

Single piano note sustained. Gentle reverb. Silence.

MOOD: Invitation

PRODUCTION NOTES

Image Generation Pipeline: Each scene's Grok Imagine prompt generates a hero frame. Grok Video API extends each frame into 3-5 second motion clips using 'extend from frame' with motion prompts.

Stitching: FFmpeg concatenates all clips with crossfade transitions (0.5s). Audio track is mixed separately and overlaid.

Narration: Character dialogue is generated via Azure TTS — Serpent voice uses low pitch + reverb effect. Boy voice uses child TTS setting. Girl voice uses bright child setting.

Music: Ambient orchestral score with biome-matched instruments. Piano for meadow scenes. Cello/bass for serpent scenes. Full orchestra for Thera-World flight. Single piano for end card.

Short Clips for Social Media: Scenes 1-2 (The Discovery — 22s), Scene 8 (The Pull — 6s loop), Scenes 9-10 (Thera-World Flight — 22s), Scene 12 (The Well — 14s), Scenes 16-17 (The Transformation — 17s), Scene 18 (Fire ending — 10s loop).
